Andrew and Joanne Quill

Mission Partners - Diocese of Ibba, South Sudan

Andrew and Joanne

Over the past two years, the Quills have been ministering alongside our partners in the Anglican Diocese of Ibba in South Sudan. Before this, they balanced parish ministry and counselling while raising their family in Northern Ireland. They bring a wealth of experience to their current roles, having previously served as mission partners in Kenya and Uganda for over a decade.

As a couple Andrew and Joanne remain dedicated to holistic discipleship, serving in close partnership with the diocesan staff and leadership team in Ibba. Their focus is on reaching out and sharing initiatives in mission that contributes to the building up of God's kingdom. Both will be instrumental in promoting and training others in CHE (Community Health Empowerment) ministry, and exploring the potential of widening this and other missional activities among CMSI's partners in South Sudan. In addition to Joanne's work with trauma healing and Andrew's training and mentorship of church leaders, they are committed to following God's guidance into any new opportunities that arise.

The vison of Ibba Diocese is to facilitate peace building and reconciliation; engage in evangelism and prayer; promote sustainable community development.

> But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth. [Acts 1:8]
